This year the event will feature a vast number of top quality companies and products from the worlds of construction, architecture and interior design.

Milan, 12th December, 2018. MADE expo, Italy's most important international event for the world of construction and architecture has published a preview of the catalogue featuring exhibiting companies at the ninth edition to be held in Milan from 13th to 16th March 2019. The main theme will be quality of living, a topic that will be developed through combining training opportunities and in-depth information with the chance to experience the latest and most relevant product news hands on, thanks to the distinctive MADE approach.

Using this approach the event offers an all-round experience that allows designers in particular to choose the most suitable components and products with which to give life to their ideas.

The catalogue is in a constant state of evolution since more and more companies are joining and taking part in the event and as of today more than three quarters of the exhibition space has already been covered.

MADE expo is a platform for dialogue in one place for all those involved in the supply chain who want to be a driving force behind the construction industry, pushing it to resume its growth process.
